

INFANT TODDLER PROGRAM INFORMATION

The Infant Toddler Program provides early intervention services to assist Idaho children birth to age three who have a developmental delay or conditions (such as prematurity, Down Syndrome, hearing loss) that may result in a developmental delay. During the pandemic the program extended services virtually to reach Idaho children and families.

Services provided during COVID-19

- 03/23/2020

Virtual services started two days prior to Idaho's "stay at home" order.

- 03/16/2020 – 06/18/2020

1,876 children received 3,928 virtual services.

- Therapy and case management services were provided primarily via videoconferencing and also telephonically.

Success Stories from Program Families

- "If you have a child who is late with their speech or language development, please do not wait, hesitate, or procrastinate contacting the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare's ITP for help."
- "I could go on indefinitely explaining how this program has made a difference in all our lives. Our quality of life has improved exponentially."
- "The impact from [ITP therapists] will affect our lives forever. You guys really do have great therapists that are so passionate about their work. They have really set the bar for future therapist we will use."
- "I love the way the program involves the parents in helping the child progress. Our son has gone leaps and bounds."
